

January

Get started on your home improvement resolutions with Home Energy Score. Home Energy Score is a rating for your home on a 1-to-10 scale, where 10 represents the most efficient a home can be. Use it to get an understanding of your home's current performance. Each report includes recommended improvements that can serve as a guide for your to do list. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

February

True love is making sure your home is efficient, comfortable, and affordable. Find out how to make it happen with Home Energy Score. Home Energy Score is a rating for your home on a 1-to-10 scale, where 10 represents the most efficient a home can be. The Score can tell you where your home currently stands and what you can do to improve energy efficiency. Improving efficiency is a way you can make your home more comfortable and reduce energy bills. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

March

Feeling lucky? Don't take any chances with your home's comfort, efficiency, or utility bills. Get a Home Energy Score and find out how your home stacks up. Home Energy Score provides a rating on a 1-to-10 scale, where 10 represents the most efficient a home can be. If you aren't satisfied with your Score, you can use the recommendations provided in the report to make improvements. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

April

Prepare for the summer heat by understanding how your home uses energy. If your home uses energy efficiently, you will be staying cool this summer. If it doesn't, you could be sweating it out. You can find out with Home Energy Score. The Home Energy Score is an assessment of your home's heating, cooling, and hot water systems with recommendations for improvements. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

May

Studies show that homes listed in May sell faster than houses listed at any other time. Use timing to your advantage and make your home stand out with a Home Energy Score. Home Energy Score is an energy efficiency rating from the U.S. Department of Energy that places your home on a 1-to-10 scale. Use it to show off the green features that improve energy efficiency in your home. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

June

You could be leaving money on the table if your home isn't as efficient as it could be. Get a Home Energy Score and see what improvements you can make to home that will lower your monthly utility bills. The Home Energy Score report includes a rating on a 1-to-10 scale and many facts about your home that are valuable to your understanding of how your home uses energy. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

July

Is your home staying cool this summer? You can find out why it isn't as cool as you want it to be with Home Energy Score. Home Energy Score is an assessment of your home's heating, cooling, hot water, and envelope and produces a rating on a 1-to-10 scale. The report includes recommendations for improvements that make your home more efficient, comfortable, and cheaper to run. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

August

School is back in session and Home Energy Score is on the assignment list. Home Energy Score is a mile-per-gallon rating for your home. It tells you where your home fits on a 1-to-10 scale where 10 represents the most efficient a home can be. It includes recommendations for energy efficiency improvements and can be used to differentiate your home when you are ready to sell. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

September

Winter is around the corner. Does your home keep your family warm? If not, find out how to improve it with Home Energy Score. Home Energy Score is a rating for your home on a 1-to-10 scale, where 10 represents the most efficient a home can be. The Score can tell you where your home currently stands and what you can do to improve energy efficiency and comfort. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

October

October is Energy Awareness Month. You can participate by getting a Home Energy Score, a miles per gallon rating for your home. The report helps you understand how your home uses energy by providing a rating on a 1-to-10 scale and facts about your home. It also provides recommendations for improvements that are cost-effective and will improve energy efficiency. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

November

Do you have guests coming to stay for the holidays? Use the Home Energy Score to prepare your home for visitors. The Home Energy Score can help you understand why your home isn't as comfortable or efficient as you would like it to be. It is a rating for your home on a 1-to-10 scale that includes recommendations for energy efficiency improvements. Make these improvements and you won't have any guests complaining about being chilly in your home. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.

December

The year is winding down but there is still time to think about energy efficiency. Get a Home Energy Score and find out what you can do to improve your home's energy efficiency. Home Energy Score is a miles-per-gallon rating for your home. It includes an easy-to-understand report that places your home on a 1-to-10 scale, facts about your home, and cost-effective recommendations for energy efficiency improvements. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.